DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 13-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

In this case the limitation “an abutting section on a rear surface thereof that abuts against a distal end of a susceptor” and “wherein the gas supply channel and the gas discharge channel are formed at positions different from a position of the abutting section” in claim 13 and similar limitation in claim 17 are new matter.

Further, the limitation “wherein a wafer-pocket-side of the first aperture is inwardly defined when viewed from the rear-surface-side opening of the first aperture” in claim 15 and 19 is a new matter.

Still further, the limitation “wherein cross-sectional shape of the second groove narrows from the outer end to the inner end of the second groove” in claims 16 and 20 is a new matter.

Still further the limitation “wherein the groove is curved in a rotating direction of the susceptor, when viewed from the inner end defining the groove” in claim 14 and similar limitation in claim 18 is a new matter.

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 13-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In this instance the limitation “an abutting section on a rear surface thereof that abuts against a distal end of a susceptor” and “wherein the gas supply channel and the gas discharge channel are formed at positions different from a position of the abutting section” in claim 13 and similar limitation in claim 17 is indefinite.

Similarly claims 14 and 18 are indefinite since “wherein the groove is curved in a rotating direction of the susceptor, when viewed from the inner end defining the groove” in claim 14 and similar limitation in claim 18 is unclear since the direction of rotation is not fixed.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(c) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 13-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Goodman et al (US 6454865).

Goodman et al disclose a rotatable (Col 3 lines 13-17) susceptor with a pocket to hold a substrate and gas inlets into the pocket and out lets from the pocket- there are three channels and any of them could be used as supply channel or as discharge channel from the recess (Fig 35, Fig 36 and Fig 37). Further, the gas inlet/outlet comprises apertures through the rear of susceptor to the pocket (See Fig 16 and Col 25 lines 9-42).

Regarding the limitation of the groove having curved shape the groove to hold the arms could be several curved shapes as disclosed in Fig 8, Fig 21-62, Fig 22 and Fig 32. The groove as in Fig 16 is formed from the peripheral end of the susceptor to the gas inlet/outlet (aperture)

Regarding the shape of the groove, it was held in re Dailey, 357 F.2d 669, 149 USPQ 47 (CCPA 1966) that the shape was a matter of choice which a person of ordinary skill in the art would have found obvious absent persuasive evidence that the particular shape was significant. (Also see MPEP 2144.04(d)). In this instance according to the specification there are several shapes of grooves which are equivalent to each other. Therefore the shape of the groove disclosed by Goodman et al is equivalent and therefore claimed shape is a mere obvious variation.

Regarding the limitation of abutting section the part 50d or 50e would be an abutting section.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 4/23/2009 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant's arguments against the new limitation of 'abutment' are addressed in the main body of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
